

K-Love is a very important part of my family. As a mother with young children I am concerned about the language they are exposed to through all types of media sources, radio included. It's comforting to know that there is a radio station we can listen to at home and in the car that I don't cringe at each song. I believe this station carries a message of encouragement to many in our community. Possibly a sense of hope that they find gets them through their day that would otherwise be very discouraging.

As a K-Love listener I am not wanting all radio stations to carry this same broadcasting but I find it frustrating and sad that these small and limited points of light and encouragement that don't bring down society even further have to fight to stay alive.